NCHL RECEIVES SUPPORT FOR ITS “BOLD” CHALLENGE FROM CIELO HEALTHCARE

CHICAGO, June 8, 2016 – The National Center for Healthcare Leadership (NCHL) said today that Cielo Healthcare, the healthcare industry’s leading strategic Recruitment Process Outsourcing partner, will be the Presenting Sponsor for its 2016 National Health Leadership Survey and Best Organizations for Leadership Development (BOLD) recognition program. BOLD is NCHL’s platform to recognize those organizations that are leading the field in preparing the current and future generations of leaders needed to transform our health system.

“BOLD has grown into the most-talked about award recognizing hospitals and health systems for outstanding work preparing our next generation of healthcare leaders,” NCHL President and Board Chair Tim Rice said. “Cielo Healthcare’s sponsorship of the leadership survey and the BOLD award, as well as their thought leadership in the field, help support this important work as we continue to seek innovation in leadership development.”

The BOLD award was introduced in 2014, when 10 high-performing hospitals and health systems were recognized for their use of evidence-based leadership development practices to achieve excellence and improve the quality of healthcare in their communities. Best-practice organizations are invited to showcase their work during NCHL’s annual Human Capital Investment Conference, which is held in November.

“As a company committed to being a solution to today’s healthcare challenges, we are thrilled to be aligned with the innovative and forward-looking work that NCHL has accomplished through BOLD,” said Cielo Healthcare President Jill Schwieters. “We believe hiring and developing great leaders is key to delivering exceptional care, achieving operational results, and driving innovation, and are proud to partner with NCHL to recognize those organizations that are excelling at supporting those leaders who are transforming America’s healthcare system.”
